LEGION SEEKING RECRUITS FOR VETERAN'S GUARD

1,000 Men Needed Immediately To Keep Ranks Filled

The Veteran's Guard of Canada, a unit of the Canadian Army (Active), have not, in the past, been receiving their full share of publicity. While it has been very highly commended by the military authorities, the general public have not heard very much about these men who went all through this in the last war and are now willing to turn out 100 per cent to bring the present one to a quick and successful conclusion.

Thousands of members of the Canadian Legion and other veteran organizations are in the Veteran's Guard all over Canada and overseas. They have at the present time, 34 companies in the Canadian Active Forces, including special service companies overseas, as well as all entertainment camp staffs throughout Canada. A total enlistment of over 9,000 men serving in the Active Army, the duties of the Veteran's Guard are spreading throughout the Empire.

1,000 MEN NEEDED
The Canadian Legion have given the military authorities assurances of their help in enlisting an additional 1,000 men for the Veteran's Guard of Canada. The local branch of the Legion will do everything in its power to secure some of these men.

QUALIFICATIONS

To qualify for the Veteran's Guard, a man must have served in the Great War and have an honorable discharge. He must not be more than fifty years of age. He must pass a prescribed medical examination within the range allowed for the Veteran's Guard and he must be prepared to serve anywhere in Canada or overseas. Canadian Army (Active) pay and allowances will apply to men enlisting for the Veteran's Guard.

Local M.L.A. On Special Committee

Mr. Frank Laul, member of the Provincial Legislature for the Banff Cechrane riding has been appointed a member of a special committee to review operations of the Workmen's Compensation (Accident Fund) Act. It is understood that this committee consists of six members of the Legislature.

BRING IN YOUR WASTE RUBBER NOW!

The waste rubber in the district is not coming in as fast as expected. Apparently many of our citizens are at a loss as to when they are to deliver the rubber in Crossfield. For their information Baker's Garage and Wood's Garage are taking deliveries.

ALL CANADA HONORS MEN IN THE ARMY

The are well-trained, tough fighting men, these Canadian soldiers, who will be the guests of honour during Army Week, June 29 to July 5.

The Navy and the Air Force have had their full share of gallant exploits. The army so far has had to be content to do a drab job without glamour or spotlight. It's turn will come. Each arm of the service will have its share in the glory and the decisive battles in this war must be fought on the land.

Army Week will fete the men on island posts away up north near Prince Rupert or at the batteries outside of Sydney, N.S., who day and night in all sorts of weather, keep watch and vigil. No more grim or drab task could be set for men and no men could show more resolution or keenness or determination.

All across Canada, in training centres, in units, the men are fitting themselves for the task that must come. Nothing could be more worthy than that the citizens of Canada should pay their respects and do honor to the officers and men and the women, too, of the Canadian Army.

Everyone's Helping
Canadians everywhere have shown tremendous enthusiasm in this undertaking. Service clubs and all types of Canadian organizations and private citizens are planning for a great week of the army; entertaining boys in their homes, at the clubs and in club meetings, visiting camps and bringing to the soldiers assurances that Canada is behind them.

And while these men in Canada are being honored the men at the outposts in Jamaica and Newfoundland and Labrador and the sons of Canada, 140,000 strong, who represent this country in England will not be forgotten. The endurance, the fortitude, the industry and courage of these soldiers is worthy of every act of interest and solicitude which can be shown. Canada is proud of them.

Generally, when training is talked about, one thinks of rifles and Bren guns and Tommy guns and trench mortars and anti-tank rifles and gas masks and universal carriers and map reading and field work and musketry and physical training and all these physical things that have to be learned by a Canadian soldier.

There has been a tremendous increase in technical proficiency in the army. There are over forty different trades and not only do mechanized units require training, but the armored formations call for about 35 per cent of skilled men.

He's Highly Skilled

On the technical and physical side, if he really knows his job the soldier has to be about as highly skilled as any members of fighting forces and for all-round qualifications he doesn't take his hat off to anyone.

Under army administration right now there are 36 basic training centres and 23 advanced training centres, including those for armored corps, artillery, engineering, signalling, infantry, Army Service Corps, ordnance, medical, machine gun and small arms.

Then there are three special trade schools, one of them teach about 40 trades, a mechanic's trade school and a driving and maintenance school. There is a Junior Leaders School and a School of Army Administration and the Canadian Battle Drill Training Centre, to that doesn't include the facilities for

MINISTER OF NATIONAL DEFENCE

To the Citizens of Canada.

OTTAWA.

It has been decided to mark the period from June 29th to July 5th, 1942, as "Army Week". The purpose is to give the people of Canada an opportunity of expressing their pride in the Canadian Army and honouring the Gentlemen in Battledress, the Nursing Sisters and the Members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps.

During Army Week, citizens will have an unusual opportunity of seeing the Army at work. Each day has been set aside for some specific purpose. Monday, June 29th, for instance, has been made "Soldier's Day" when the public will be invited to send gifts and parcels to the men overseas and when they can entertain the men at dances and other special entertainments. The next day, June 30th, is "Civilians' Day", when civilians will be asked to prepare meals on a food ration system and restaurants will serve meals identical to those served to Canadian soldiers. On Dominion Day there will be garrison parades and special military demonstrations. The 2nd, 3rd and 4th of July will equally be devoted to enabling Canadians to learn at first hand various phases of Army activities.

Army Week will wind up on Sunday, July 5th, when the public will be invited to attend church services in Army camps and barracks, and special prayers will be offered for the members of the Armed Forces. On that day, camps will be open to the public and demonstrations and displays of barracks and camps will be arranged.

As Minister of National Defence, I am immensely proud of the men and women in khaki and of the women in Nursing Service blue who are serving Canada. I am sure that my fellow Canadians feel just as I do. I extend a most cordial invitation to all of you to express this well deserved appreciation by joining in the events of Army Week.

Yours very truly,

PANTS AND PANTING

"As pants the heart for cooling streams" so pants the heart for cuffs it seems. Certain males of the species are so enamored of the unnecessary folds commonly tailored to the extremities of the nether garment that they will go to some lengths to achieve their continuance, in spite of the ruling which prohibits tailors from adding this adornment. The amount of wool to be saved by finishing trouser legs ungarlished with cuffs is said to be very considerable. Whether the restriction is or is not necessary, does it not seem strange that anyone should be seriously concerned whether his trousers have cuffs or not in the midst of a total war?—British Columbian.

The big cities have been poking fun for years at our little one-horse towns. Now with gasoline and tire restrictions, we can return the jibes—they haven't even got the one horse, observes the Lynden (Wash.) Tribune.

Face the sun and shadows will fall behind you. Don't grumble. Don't bluster. Don't dream and don't shirk. The worries will vanish, the work will be done. "No man sees his shadow who faces the sun."

MAIL YOUR APPLICATION CARD FOR COUPON RATIONING
AT ONCE!

After July 1st no one will be able to purchase sugar for regular domestic use without turning in a ration coupon.

Application cards for coupon rationing for sugar have now been mailed to every household in Canada. But, in an undertaking so vast, some homes may have been missed, or some cards may have gone astray. So, no matter where you live, whether it is in areas served by letter carrier or not, if your application card is not already on its way to Rationing Headquarters, you should wait no longer.

After filling in the card, according to the instructions on the pamphlet which was delivered with it, just drop the card in the nearest mail box or post office. It needs no forwarding address.

IF YOU HAVE NOT RECEIVED AN APPLICATION CARD you should get one at the nearest Post Office at once.

The ration cards being issued for use July 1st are for sugar only, and good for 10 weeks. At the end of that period a coupon ration book good for 6 months will be issued. Under the new system of coupon rationing, you are allowed the same amount of sugar as at present— $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. per person per week. The same provision as at present for additional quantities for preserving and jam and jelly making will be continued. Special voucher forms for this purpose are being supplied all retailers.

OVERSEAS PARCELS SHOULD BE VARIED

"Keep Them Small But Keep Them Coming" Soldiers Urge

Men and women in the Canadian Services overseas welcome their rations aren't adequate, but parcels from home not because (like other mail, for their morale value.

"Keep them small but keep them coming" is the theme of many letters arriving from the United Kingdom.

What to send? Home-made sweets are fine, but you'll have to take necessary sugar from your ration. (Canadian troops overseas are allowed a sugar ration of 14 oz. a week). Hard cookies, short breads and cakes are favorites.

If you send home-made candy, pour it directly into a cardboard or tin container lined with waxed paper. Don't cut in pieces, it travels better whole.

Send notepaper, pencils, packs of cards, tooth paste, razor blades, cigarettes, tobacco, handkerchiefs, socks, chocolate bars, toffee, fudge, butterscotch, lifesavers and chewing gum. The last two items make good chink fillers between packages as do handkerchief tissues.

Wrap foods carefully. In packing cookies, line the box with wax paper and put a thin cardboard between each layer. Place less perishable kinds at the bottom.

Use sturdy lightweight container and stout wrapping paper and wrap or tie all parcels securely. Remember the 11 pound maximum. A lot of goodness and variety can be packed into a six pound parcel.

News of the Week

War-time Prices and Trade Board

COUPON APPLICATION CARD MUST BE MAILED NOW

When citizens in rural districts receive applications for their sugar ration cards, they should promptly fill them in, printing their names in block letters and return them to the mail carrier or post office. If they are accustomed to receiving their mail from the post office, then the post office will see that the card goes to the proper office of the War-time Prices and Trade Board, after the applicant has printed his name and address in the right place.

Now the women come on duty. Throughout Canada the task of recording sugar ration cards will be done in 106 centres, each centre under a supervisor representing the women's Advisory Committee of the War-time Prices and Trade Board. Four of these centres are in Alberta. Recording for the entire province will take place in Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat. This work will be done on June 28, 27, 29 and 30.

Mrs. Frank J. Conroy of Edmonton, as provincial regional chairman of the Women's Advisory Committee, is working with regional supervisors Mrs. R.L. Nicholson of Calgary, Mrs. A.S. Fumerton of Lethbridge and Miss M. Fowler of Medicine Hat. Each supervisor convenes an effective working committee.

Enlarge the picture of the provincial set-up to take in all of Canada. You see 20,000 women at work to issue 12,000,000 sugar ration cards, providing the means of fair division of a scarce commodity. It is the biggest job yet asked of Canadian women. In their task, everyone is a volunteer, everyone a patriot.

VOUCHERS FOR PRESERVING

Rationing of sugar will stand at one-half pound per person per week, and the housewife allowed no more than two weeks supply of sugar at any one time. For preserving the allowance is one-half pound per pound weight of fruit, and three-quarter's pound per pound of fruit when jams and jellies are on the program. So when sugar is bought for canning or preserving the housewife will be enabled to sign a special voucher, in the presence of the retailer. These vouchers are necessary to enable the retailer to replenish his stock.

RENTAL RULING

Landlords are obliged to post the maximum rental in each accommodation rented according to the ruling of the Rental Administration of the War-time Prices and Trade Board. The ruling applies to every operator supplying lodging with, or with out, meal service, to three or more training officers. There are two big officer training centres, one at Brockville, Ont., and one at Gordon Head in British Columbia, with a combined present capacity of 1,800 instruction and planned for expansion to 3,000, and there are the junior war staff course, the senior officers' course and the Company Commanders course operating in Kingston.

180,000 Men Per Year

For the last few months Canada has been taking into training centres at least 15,000 men a month, which is at the rate of 180,000 a year. In May, Canada put into training centres, counting those enlisting and those called up, no less than 19,000 men.

Those men are taught more than the use of weapons. They are taught useful skills and trades and things of the mind and of the heart as well. Neatness, orderliness, pride in themselves, self-dependence, initiative, resourcefulness, the ability to make something else do if they can't get the exact thing they want. They are taught leadership and above all they are taught responsibility to others and that each man is his brother's keeper.

They are men to be proud of, these men of the Canadian army, and it is fitting that all Canada should honor them during Army Week.

persons other than the members of his own family, and to any landlord renting accommodation for one week or less.

Alterations or improvements of his premises do not warrant any landlord increasing the rent, without sanction under the Maximum Rental Regulations of the War-time Prices and Trade Board. Landlords and tenants are both liable to penalties for infractions. If a higher rent is charged, and paid, than that prevailing during the basic period, PROSECUTION

Charged with raising a rental, and on second count of making a demand upon a tenant for raise of rent, Stanley H. McNeill, of Smith Falls, Ontario, was prosecuted under the Maximum Rental Regulations of the War-time Prices and Trade Board, and fined $20.00 with costs.

NO EGG SHORTAGE

Although some 45,000,000 dozen eggs will be exported to the United Kingdom this year, increased production makes the current supply for home use adequate. For summer menus eggs are light and nourishing, and there's no end to the way in which they can be served, from boiled or baked, to the delectable fluffy omelettes. Tard red currant jelly spread over the top of your omelette, then fold to serve, is as delicious as it is attractive.

OUR SCHOOL

Another school term is almost at an end, with examinations taking place each day until the 30th. Both teachers and students appear to be keyed up to this very serious time of the school year. When results of the examinations reflect so much on the abilities of the teachers and their method of teaching and also the students, as to whether or not they are anxious to learn from the instruction they receive in school hours and follow up with the home work allotted them and to be checked up by the teacher the following day.

This is also an anxious time for the parents who have children going to school, as it is natural for parents to have the desire of seeing children make progress while attending school, realizing the advantages of a good education and what it means in assisting the children to become responsible citizens in the future.

I wait all day, and I could wait all night,
And then you find me in a terrible plight.

I get so mad, I want to go home,

I pick up the dirt, and leave 'round the loam,
"Oh, come on fish, won't you bite now?"
And again I wipe the rain off my brow.

But oh! my rod, it's starting to jiggle,
The line, it's giving a queer little wiggle,
I jump to my rod, and give a big heave,
I know this time the fish won't leave.

I pull him in, he's not got much fight,
I wonder why he's in such plight?
But just the same I say, "fish, you're mine."
It's a sucker—there's one at both ends of the line!—
J. Eugene Nudd in Banff Craig and Canyon.

of attack on short notice. At Petawawa, for instance, artillerymen like the resolute chap setting his gun sights in the above photograph are prepared for co-operation with infantrymen, Royal Canadian Air Force, the tank corps and any other force with which they may be combined in an operation. At every camp in Canada's network of training centres the program is proceeding, building a striking force which every day grows in size and strength.

Barley for Choice Bacon
Bacon which is relied by the British consumer can only come from the right kind of hogs fed in the right way. That consumer happens to be Canada's best customer for this commodity. No matter how ideal the type may be, a hog will not yield good bacon unless it receives the right kind of feed. Which of the common grains is the best feed for bacon hogs has been the subject of a series of interesting tests conducted by Dr. B. W. Crampton, animal nutrition expert at Macdonald College, Quebec. The work was carried on under the auspices of the National Barley and Flax Committee. Western grains were used in the experiments. His first test was designed to determine the relative feeding values of barley, oats and corn. Barley was shown to be definitely superior to either oats or corn, whether rate of gain, efficiency of feed or carcass quality were measured. Oats resulted in slower gains and unfinished carcasses. Corn fed hogs were consistently degraded because the carcasses were oily, soft, and overfinished.

The next test was made to compare the feeding values of barley and wheat. This was suggested by the Barley Committee because of the surplus of wheat and the rapidly expanding swine industry in the prairie provinces. The results of this test showed that barley fed hogs yielded more suitable carcasses, but those getting wheat made faster gains. These results would suggest that wheat and barley should make an ideal combination to secure maximum efficiency of feeding, and at the same time obtain high quality. This is precisely what Dr. Crampton proposes to study in a test now in progress.

In the meantime, farmers are being urged to grow more barley to feed more hogs, which are needed in Canada's expanding war program.—Contributed by T. B. Pickering.
